SEAN F. McAVOY, CLERK

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
EASTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,

Plaintiff,

v.

REYNALDO HERNANDEZ-
RODRIGUEZ,

Defendant.

NO: 2:18-CR-00197-RHW

ORDER DISMISSING INDICTMENT

Before the Court is Defendant's Motion to Dismiss the Indictment. ECF No. 34. The Government has charged Defendant with one count of illegal reentry in violation of 8 U.S.C. § 1326. ECF No. 20. This charge is predicated on a 2011 removal order issued pursuant to an expedited removal proceeding. ECF No. 20 at 1; No. 34-2 (Ex. A). Defendant now moves to dismiss the indictment on the basis that the 2011 removal order failed to comply with the requirements of due process and therefore cannot be used as a predicate offense to sustain the present § 1326 charge. See ECF No. 34 at 2-3. For the following reasons, the Court GRANTS Defendant's motion to dismiss.

1                                   I.      Factual Background

2            Defendant is a 36-year-old Mexican citizen who first entered the United 3 States in 2002. ECF No. 34-6 (Ex. E) at 1-2. His criminal record consists of one 4 2003 conviction under the Texas Transportation Code for Displaying a Fictitious 5 Inspection Certificate or Insurance Document. ECF No. 5 at 2; No. 34-9 (Ex. H).
6 On December 9, 2011, he was apprehended near the border in southern Arizona.
7 ECF No. 34-5 (Ex. D) at 1. He admitted that he was a Mexican citizen, that he did 8 not have legal documents to enter the United States, and that he entered illegally.
9 Id. at 3.

10           Border Patrol Agent Martin Montano commenced an expedited removal 11 proceeding. ECF No. 34-2 (Ex. A); No. 34-3 (Ex. B). During the proceeding, Agent 12 Montano read Defendant the preamble to the sworn statement, which explained what 13 was happening and advised Defendant of his rights. ECF No. 34-3 (Ex. B) at 1.
14 Agent Montano asked Defendant if he understood, and Defendant agreed that he did 15 and said he did not have any questions. Id. Agent Montano then took Defendant's 16 sworn statement. Id. Defendant said he was a Mexican citizen, did not claim legal 17 status in the United States, and admitted that he illegally entered the country the day 18 before by jumping the border fence. Id. at 2. Defendant signed his full name on each 19 page of his sworn statement. See id. at 1-3.

20           Agent Montano determined Defendant was inadmissible to the United States 21 and entered a removal order. ECF No. 34-2 (Ex. A). Defendant was then removed

1 from the United States. ECF No. 34-7 (Ex. F). In October 2018, Defendant was 2 found in the Eastern District of Washington. ECF No. 20 at 1.

3 II. Procedural Background

4 The Government charged Defendant with illegal reentry in violation of 8 5 U.S.C. § 1326, with the 2011 expedited removal proceeding serving as the predicate 6 removal. Id. Defendant moved to dismiss the indictment on the basis that the prior 7 expedited removal order violated his due process rights and was fundamentally 8 unfair. ECF No. 34 at 2-3. On March 27, 2019, the Court held a pretrial conference 9 and motion hearing. ECF No. 45.

10 The Government called Agent Montano as a witness at the hearing. He 11 testified that throughout his 10-year career with the Border Patrol, he has processed 12 over 1,000 expedited removals. He testified that he follows the same process for 13 each one. He had no independent memory of Defendant's expedited removal 14 proceeding specifically, but believed he conducted it the same way he does all 15 expedited removal proceedings.

16 Agent Montano testified that he reads the preamble on Form I-867A—the 17 record of sworn statement—to the individual. See ECF No. 34-3 (Ex. B). The form 18 prints in English, but when necessary he translates it into Spanish, which is his 19 native language. He then takes the person's sworn statement, asking the prompted 20 questions and then typing the responses into a computer.

1 Agent Montano testified that he then reviews the entire sworn statement with 2 the person. If the person does not speak English, he translates the statement into 3 Spanish. After ensuring the person does not have any questions, he has the person 4 sign each page.

5 Agent Montano also discussed Form I-860—the notice and order of 6 expedited removal—which verifies his finding that the person is inadmissible. See 7 ECF No. 34-2 (Ex. A). He testified that he reviews this form with the subject of 8 every expedited removal proceeding, translating into Spanish if necessary. He also 9 testified that he never obtained Defendant’s signature on this form, as there was no 10 place on it for Defendant to sign.

11 III. Discussion

12 Although an alien has no right to appeal an expedited removal order itself, a 13 defendant charged under § 1326 has a due process right to collaterally attack a 14 prior expedited removal order because it serves as a predicate element of his or her 15 conviction. United States v. Raya-Vaca, 771 F.3d 1195, 1201 (9th Cir. 2014). A 16 defendant challenging a prior expedited removal order need only show that the 17 entry of the prior order was fundamentally unfair.<sup>1</sup> Id. at 1202. An underlying 18 removal is fundamentally unfair if (1) an alien’s due process rights were violated 19 by defects in the underlying deportation proceeding, and (2) the alien was

21 <sup>1</sup> In cases involving other types of removals, defendants must also demonstrate (1) exhaustion of administrative remedies and (2) an improper denial of judicial review. See Raya-
Vaca, 771 F.3d at 1201-02. But these elements are already established in the expedited removal context. Id.

1 prejudiced by those defects. United States v. Garcia-Santana, 774 F.3d 528, 532-2 33 (9th Cir. 2014).

3 A. The 2011 Removal Order Violated Defendant's Due Process Rights

4 Defendant argues his due process rights were violated during his 2011
5 expedited removal because Agent Montano violated agency regulation 8 C.F.R. § 6 235.3(b)(2)(i) in multiple ways. Specifically, he argues Agent Montano failed to:
7 (1) advise him that deportation was certain while reading the preamble to the 8 sworn statement; (2) read him or allow him to read his sworn statement before 9 signing it; (3) obtain his signature on the back of Form I-860, the removal order.
10 ECF No. 34 at 9-16. It is the defendant's burden to establish a due process 11 violation. Raya-Vaca, 771 F.3d at 1202.

12 1. Legal principles

13 Non-admitted aliens who seek entry at the border are only entitled to 14 whatever process Congress or the Executive provide. United States v. Sanchez- 15 Aguilar, 719 F.3d 1108, 1112 (9th Cir. 2013). Whatever the procedure authorized 16 by Congress or the Executive is, it is due process as far as an alien denied entry is 17 concerned. United States v. Garcia-Gonzalez, 791 F.3d 1175, 1177 (9th Cir. 2015).

18 Congress has authorized an expedited removal procedure. See 8 U.S.C. § 19 1225(b)(1)(A)(i). Pursuant to this statutory authority, the Department of Homeland 20 Security and Executive Office of Immigration Review promulgated identical 21 regulations governing the procedures for expedited removals. See 8 C.F.R. §

1 235.3(b)(2)(i) (Homeland Security's); 8 C.F.R. § 1235.3(b)(2)(i) (EOIR's). These 2 regulations spell out in detail the exact procedures for expedited removal 3 proceedings.

4 These regulations codify, in mandatory terms, the immigration officer's 5 duties. Raya-Vaca, 771 F.3d at 1204. While not all regulations protect fundamental 6 rights, the Ninth Circuit has held that these do. Id. Thus, an alien's due process 7 rights can be violated when, for instance, the immigration officer fails to inform 8 the alien of the charge or fails to provide the alien an opportunity to review the 9 sworn statement prepared in his or her name. Id.

10 2. Immigration officials are not required to advise individuals in 11 removal proceedings that deportation is certain before taking the 12 sworn statement

13 Defendant first argues that the 2011 prior expedited removal was invalid 14 because, in his view, Agent Montano failed to adequately advise him of the 15 consequences of the proceedings while reading the preamble to the sworn 16 statement. ECF No. 34 at 9-10. He takes issue with the following language, which 17 Agent Montano read to him before taking his sworn statement:

18 You do not appear to be admissible or to have the required legal 19 papers authorizing your admission to the United States. This may 20 result in your being denied admission and immediately returned to 21 your country without a hearing. If a decision is made to refuse your admission into the United States, you may be immediately removed from this country, and if so, you may be barred from reentry for a period of 5 years or longer.

1 ECF No. 34-3 at 1 (emphasis added). Defendant argues that Agent Montano only 2 advised him that he could be deported and barred from returning to the United 3 States for at least five years, rather than advising him that this outcome was 4 certain. ECF No. 34 at 10.

5 The problem with Defendant's argument is that the regulation governing 6 expedited removal procedures expressly requires the immigration officer to read
7 Form I-867A, and Form I-867A contains the language at issue.<sup>2</sup> See 8 C.F.R. § 8 1235.3(b)(2)(i) ("The examining immigration officer shall read (or have read) to 9 the alien all information contained on Form I-867A."). This is what Agent 10 Montano did. Compare Michele R. Pistone & John J. Hoeffner, Rules Are Made to 11 Be Broken: How the Process of Expedited Removal Fails Asylum Seekers, 20 GEO.
12 IMMIGR. L. J. 167, 176 (2006) (copy of language in Form I-867A), with ECF No.
13 34-3 (Ex. B) at 1. Because Defendant is only entitled to the process specified in the 14 regulation, see Sanchez-Aguilar, 719 F.3d at 1112, and the regulation expressly 15 requires the immigration officer to read this specific language, it follows that this 16 did not violate Defendant's due process rights.

21 <sup>2</sup> It makes sense that the regulation only requires the immigration officer to advise the alien that he or she may be deported before taking the sworn statement—at this point an inadmissibility finding has not yet been made, and the purpose for taking the sworn statement is to help determine whether the alien is inadmissible.

1           3.     Agent Montano reviewed Defendant’s sworn statement with him
2                       in compliance with the regulation

3           Defendant next argues that he was told to sign and initial his Record of 4 Sworn Statement without reading it or having it read to him, in violation of 8 5 C.F.R. § 235.3(b)(2)(i). ECF No. 34 at 10-15.

6           Under the regulation, the immigration officer in every expedited removal 7 proceeding must create a record of the facts and statements made by the alien using 8 Form I-867AB. 8 C.F.R. § 235.3(b)(2)(i). First, as discussed above, the 9 immigration officer must read Form I-867A to the alien. Id. Next, the immigration 10 officer must question the alien regarding his or her identity, alienage, and 11 inadmissibility, and record the responses. Id. Finally, the immigration officer must 12 have the alien read the sworn statement he or she just gave (or have the statement 13 read to him or her) and then have the alien sign and initial each page of the 14 statement. Id.

15           The Court finds that Agent Montano complied with these procedures.
16 Although Agent Montano naturally did not have an independent recollection of a 17 removal proceeding he conducted over seven years ago, he described the standard 18 practices that he follows during every expedited removal. He testified that he reads 19 Form I-867A to the person, asks the prompted questions, types in the responses, 20 reviews the entire statement with the person—translating into Spanish if 21 necessary—and then has the person sign each page. The record of sworn statement

1 in this case generally corroborates Agent Montano's description of these standard
2 practices. See ECF No. 34-3 (Ex. B). Accordingly, the Court finds that Defendant's 3 due process rights were not violated in this respect.

4 4. Agent Montano failed to obtain Defendant's signature on the back
5 of Form I-860, as the regulation expressly requires

6 Finally, Defendant contests the validity of the prior removal on the basis that 7 he never received formal notice of the charge against him. ECF No. 34 at 15.
8 Specifically, he argues Agent Montano never obtained his signature on the back 9 side of Form I-860, as 8 C.F.R. § 235.3(b)(2)(i) requires. Id. at 14-15.

10 The regulation requires the immigration officer to advise the alien of the 11 charge against him or her on Form I-860 (the Notice and Order of Expedited 12 Removal), and then give the alien the opportunity to respond to those charges in 13 his or her sworn statement. 8 C.F.R. § 235.3(b)(2)(i). After getting a supervisor's 14 approval, the immigration officer must then serve Form I-860 on the alien and 15 have the alien sign the reverse of the form acknowledging receipt. Id.

16 In this case, only the front side of Form I-860 is in the record, so the written 17 record is silent as to whether Defendant signed the back. See ECF No. 34-3 at 1 18 (Ex. A). However, the remainder of the evidence uncontrovertibly establishes that 19 Agent Montano failed to obtain Defendant's signature on Form I-860. Defendant 20 attests to this in his declaration. See ECF No. 34-6 (Ex. E) at 3. Agent Montano 21 also testified that although he went over Form I-860 with Defendant in Spanish, he

1 did not have Defendant sign it. Accordingly, Defendant's expedited removal 2 proceeding did not comply with 8 C.F.R. § 235.3(b)(2)(i) and as a result, the 3 removal violated due process. See United States v. Ramirez-Diaz, 359 F. Supp. 3d 4 994, 2019 WL 149551, at *3 (D. Or. 2019); United States v. Mejia-Avila, No. 2:14-5 CR-0177-WFN-1, 2016 WL 1423845, at *1 (E.D. Wash. Apr. 5, 2016); United 6 States v. Arteaga-Gonzalez, No. 12-CR-4704-L, 2013 WL 5462285, at *4 (S.D.
7 Cal. Sept. 30, 2013); compare United States v. Angulo-Galaviz, No. 17-CR-3671-8 CAB, 2018 WL 1942367, at *3 (S.D. Cal. Apr. 25, 2018) (finding no due process
9 violation where Government submitted evidence that Border Patrol agent's 10 standard practice was to obtain alien's signature on form).

11 At the end of the hearing, the Government cited United States v. Barajas-
12 Alvarado, 655 F.3d 1077 (9th Cir. 2011) and argued that an immigration officer's 13 failure to obtain a defendant's signature on the back of Form I-860 does not violate 14 due process. That case is distinguishable from this one. There, the "record [was] 15 silent" as to whether the defendant signed the back of Form I-860. Id. at 1088, 16 n.12. Because there was no evidence at all as to whether the defendant signed the 17 form—and given that defendants have the burden of proving due process 18 violations—the Ninth Circuit simply noted that the defendant failed to prove that 19 his rights were violated. Id. This case is different because the record contains 20 affirmative evidence from both Defendant and Agent Montano that Defendant 21 never signed Form I-860.

1       The Government also argued that as long as the Border Patrol agent goes 2 over Form I-860 with the alien—as Agent Montano did here—then the defendant’s 3 signature is not required for a valid removal. “This is not correct.” Ramirez-Diaz, 4 359 F. Supp. 3d 994, 2019 WL 149551, at *3. “The regulation requires that the 5 defendant provide his signature on the reverse of the form to acknowledge receipt, 6 and here there is no signature from the defendant.” Id. The Government’s 7 argument fails.

8       Defendant has established that this defect in the 2011 deportation proceeding 9 violated his due process rights. The question now is whether he was prejudiced by 10 this defect. Garcia-Santana, 774 F.3d at 532-33.

11 B.    The Government does not Dispute Prejudice

12       To demonstrate prejudice from a due process violation, Defendant does not 13 need to show that he definitely would have received immigration relief—he only 14 needs to show “plausible grounds” for such relief. Raya-Vaca, 771 F.3d at 1206; 15 Barajas-Alvarado, 655 F.3d at 1089. The only form of discretionary relief 16 available in expedited removal proceedings is withdrawal of application for 17 admission. 8 C.F.R. § 1235.4; Barajas-Alvarado, 655 F.3d at 1089-90. In 18 analyzing the plausibility of this form of discretionary relief, courts are guided by 19 the Inspector’s Field Manual, an internal agency document that lists various factors 20 for immigration officers to consider when deciding whether to grant withdrawal of 21

1 application for admission. Raya-Vaca, 771 F.3d at 1206-07; Barajas-Alvarado, 2 655 F.3d at 1090.

3 Importantly here, the Court notes that the Government does not dispute the 4 issue of prejudice. Rather, in both its briefing and at the hearing, the Government 5 exclusively argued that the 2011 expedited removal complied with due process, 6 and never argued that Defendant was not prejudiced.<sup>3</sup> See ECF No. 40 at 5-8. This 7 effective concession—coupled with the fact that several Field Manual factors 8 weigh in Defendant’s favor, including his very minor criminal history and the lack 9 of any fraud or deceit, see supra p. 2—persuade the Court that Defendant could 10 plausibly have been granted discretionary relief during the 2011 expedited removal 11 proceedings. Thus, the Court concludes that prejudice has been established.

12 IV. Conclusion and Order

13 In light of the above, the Court finds that the immigration agent’s failure to 14 follow agency regulations during Defendant’s 2011 expedited removal violated his 15 due process rights and that he suffered prejudice as a result of the unlawful 16 removal. Defendant’s 2011 removal order is therefore invalid and cannot serve as 17 the predicate for the current § 1326 charge.

---

19 <sup>3</sup> The Government very tersely mentions in its conclusion that Defendant “failed to carry 20 his burden of establishing that the expedited removal . . . caused him prejudice,” ECF No. 40 at 21 8, but devotes no actual analysis to the issue. Courts do not consider issues that are not supported by argument or clearly and distinctly raised in the opening brief. See Benton v. Hughes, 623 F.
App’x 888, 889 (9th Cir. 2015); Pierce v. Multnomah County, Or., 76 F.3d 1032, 1037 n.3 (9th Cir. 1996) (issues not supported by argument are deemed abandoned); Greenwood v. FAA, 28 F.3d 971, 977 (9th Cir. 1994) (“We review only issues which are argued specifically and distinctly in a party’s opening brief.”).

1 Accordingly, IT IS HEREBY ORDERED:

2 1. Defendant's Motion to Dismiss the Indictment, ECF No. 34, is 3 GRANTED. The Indictment is DISMISSED WITH PREJUDICE.

4 IT IS SO ORDERED. The District Court Clerk is directed to file this Order 5 and provide copies to counsel.

6 DATED this April 5, 2019.
